

Energy Show 2006 in Dublin

The Energy Show 2006 was held in Dublin, Ireland on the 10th and 11th May 2006. The Energy Show, which is a biennial event, is the largest and most successful national exhibition in Ireland. It is an ideal forum for suppliers, customers and consultants in the field of energy, in particular sustainable energy technologies and good energy management, to exchange ideas and provide expert energy advice. Mr. Noel Dempsey, Minister for Communications, Marine and Natural Resources, officially launched the Show.

CODEMA has exhibited at the Energy Show for a number of years and the show presented us with our first opportunity to promote the ROSH project. A very attractive project leaflet was developed for distribution at the show.

The attendance level exceeded previous years reaching a record of more than 3,000 people and this was reflected through the number of enquiries and brochures distributed at the CODEMA stand throughout the two days.
